- A link to registration for the event on Stats and Ladders can be found here:

- All weapon options must be selected, as prompted by the List Builder, e.g. Akhelian Alloplex needs to have either 'Razorshell Harpoon' or 'Retarius Net Launcher' selected.
- Battalions and Enhancements must be recorded on army lists. If any Enhancements are missed on list submission and identified after deadline players will be able to update their lists to include these, however they will count as "late to the table" meaning their opponent will automatically have priority in the first battle round regardless of drops.

New Army Books, FAQs, House Rules, etc.

New Army Books

New Battletomes released up to 1 week prior (May 9th) to list submission deadline (May 16th) will be playable with the provisions below.

Battletomes that have not been released on 'general release' and are only available as part of a special box by list submission deadline will not be legal and old book will apply.

FAQs

- Official FAQs are available at the following address:
<https://www.warhammer-community.com/faqs/>
- Any recently released army book which has not yet had an FAQ released for it will be reviewed by the TO's prior to the event and we reserve the right to House Rule any potentially contentious rules within the book. Any such House Rules will be published prior to list submission deadline on May 16th.

House Rules

- Measurements to and from any Terrain features are to be made to any part of the model. E.g. The Gloomtide Shipwreck should not be measured to the small central piece connecting it to the table. This is to stop anything being abused in an unintended way with large models physically not being able to make contact with the 'base' due to the overhang of the ship sides or the terrain piece being placed in a way that creates a smaller than 3" gap between objectives/ other terrain.

FAQs

- All FAQs released by list submission deadline will be in effect.
- FAQs relating to this tournament pack will be added below as and when they are asked.

Scoring

- We are simplifying scoring this year, as we feel 4th does not need the differentiation between objective and battle tactic play enforced in a pack. Therefore we will be using VP differential 37+ system per stats and ladders to determine each game.
- The overall event will be determined by W/D/L, i.e. all 5-0's will place above 4-1's regardless of Differentials, assuming no significant differences occur due to List, Paint and Sports points, as these will still be added to total scores.
- A Win will be awarded 20 points, a Draw 10 points and a Loss 0 points. Therefore someone with a 4-1-0 record would place above a 5-0-0 if there is more than a 10-point difference in combined, List, Paint and Sports scores between the two participants in favour of the 4-1-0 player.

Tiebreakers

- Differential 37+
- Victory Points
- Gamesmanship points will be the 3rd tiebreaker if required.

Round Pairings

- Round pairings will be random for the first round, grudges are allowed if agreed by both players and notified to the TO ahead of pairings announcements.
- After round 1, pairings will be based on W/D/L, followed by the tiebreakers above. This ensures players are always playing against an opponent of equal standing during rounds 2-5.

Models, Painting and Basing

- Models are expected to be fairly WYSIWYG. Conversions and suitable alternative models are allowed however, so if you have a cool conversion or unusual model, please contact the TO for approval. Armies are to be fully painted to at least a three-colour minimum across every model (undercoat and spot colour is not sufficient).
- Paint scores will be scored against the painting rubric below, with scores capped at 20 out of a maximum 35 points available.
- Unpainted models are not allowed. You will be asked to remove unpainted models from the table.
- All models must be on round/ oval bases for gaming purposes.
- Painting Rubric

3D printing and Alternate models

- 3D printed models are 100% allowed!
- There are no restrictions to the amount of 3D printed models your army contains, it can be entirely 3D printed - this is to encourage creativity in the hobby and we have seen some awesome entirely 3D printed armies in the past and don't want to discourage this.
- All 3D prints must receive pre-approval from the TO however and follow the 3 rules of Effort, Quality and Fit as below:
- Rule of Quality – Is the quality of the sculpt and print of high level (i.e. printed on a HD resin printer vs FDM (filament) printer) so that it is of equal or higher quality than traditional plastic multipart kits? If answer is yes, approval likely given, if not, approval likely not given.
- Rule of Effort - Has an equal or greater amount of effort gone into assembly/ printing and painting of the model(s) to any other non-3D printed model we would see attending the event? If answer is yes, approval likely given, if not, approval likely not given.
- Rule of Fit – Does/Do the model(s) fit the aesthetic of the army as a whole, i.e. is the 3D print a suitable alternate that does not look out of place with the rest of the army, or in the case of numerous models/ entirely 3D printed armies, do all models follow the same aesthetic and look suitably recognisable as the official models they represent (models are of correct scale, units are identifiable from one another)? If answer is yes, approval likely given, if not, approval likely not given.
- An example of an acceptable 3D printed army is included on the following page.

- An example of a fully 3D printed, alternate army that is more than acceptable (actively encouraged – we love to see this level of creativity!) at Sydney Slaughter is shown below:

* Credit to Jono Inger (again!).

- The army above represents a Flesh Eater Courts army mid delusion! All models in the army meet the 3 rules of Effort, Quality and Fit.
- Quality - The sculpts and prints are of high quality with great detail.
- Effort - Significant effort has been taken in the preparation and painting of all the models (Even the Nightmare side, while in a greyscale style, this has been done with skill and is not just black sprayed with a grey spray can, and OSL has been used with the base colour).
- Fit – Lastly all the models clearly fit the theme and are easily identifiable. The different units of Morheg Knights for example are all obvious as to what they are when looking at the opponent's list and models.
- There is minor room for improvement with the above models due to simplistic painting of the 'Nightmare' side of the army, however the models, when presented together, more than meet the required standards, with the Bretonian side clearly demonstrating good painting.

Gamesmanship

- Players will mark their opponent's gamesmanship in each game through a series of 5 check boxes, as detailed below, adding a max of 25 points across the five games to their total score.

Gamesmanship Criteria

Opponent was on time and prepared for the game - They had dice, tape measure etc.

Opponent explained the key mechanics of their army to you before the game commenced.

Opponent was clear with their actions, intent and dice rolling - Explaining what they were rolling for before rolling, declaring intent for models and rolling in a visible place, allowing their opponent to confirm the rolls.

Opponent was tight with their measurements – Pre-measuring distances and agreeing with their opponent before moving models.

Opponent maintained a friendly demeanour throughout the game – Gracious in victory or defeat.

Conduct/ Leading by Example

Conduct

- We expect all players to demonstrate sporting conduct throughout the event. This extends to good personal conduct. Players should act appropriately and do nothing to make any other person feel less than perfectly safe and welcome.
- Any player who feels unsporting conduct is taking place should speak to the TO. If you feel the issue may affect the outcome of a game in progress, you must alert the TO during the game.
- Unsporting conduct may result in deduction of tournament points, and serious or repeated offences will result in automatic game losses or disqualification.
- During deployment, both players should take 5-10 mins to explain the core mechanics of their army to their opponent and give their opponent the opportunity to ask any questions, such as effective ranges etc.
- It is not expected that every single rule should need to be explained to opponents upfront as this would be onerous, however core mechanics such as battle traits and enhancements should be explained and any direct question should be answered. An additional 15 minutes has been included in round times (3 hours) to allow for this so that all games can be played with a good level of understanding from both players from the start to provide a better gaming experience – Gotcha's are not fun.

Leading by Example

- Players will be expected to know the majority of the Core Rules and the rules of their army.
- Regular, high-level tournament players (those finishing within the Top 50 of the final 2024 Australian Rankings season) will be expected to get rules right and while mistakes can happen, should a TO be made aware that a significant misplay of a Core Rule or army mechanic occurred during a game, it will be expected that the player who misplayed will forfeit the game. We hope that most players would do this of their own accord, but given the nature of the 1st place prize this year, TO's will make a ruling on behalf of the players involved. So it is in your best interest to play with honesty and integrity as a forfeit will take you out of the running!

Timing Out / Slow Play

- A game of Age of Sigmar is intended to be 5 turns and all TO involvement in decision making will assume 5 turns would be played if our involvement is needed.
- Any game that has not finished after “dice down” is called at the end of each round, will be reviewed by the TO with discussion with both players to ‘resolve’ the most likely outcome of the game as if 5 full battlerounds had been played. The TO’s decision on this outcome is final; any player arguing with the TO over any such decision will be penalised -10 TPs.
Players should make every effort to finish their games within the allotted time of 3hrs to avoid this outcome.
- While allowances should be made for newer players in the sport of the game, deliberate slow playing to affect the result of a game will be heavily frowned upon.
- Any player being notified to the TO as potentially slow playing for advantage will be given a 5TP penalty and a warning from the TO. If they are notified a second time, they will receive a further 10TP penalty and final warning. A third notification will result in disqualification.
- That being said, players will be expected to prompt their opponents to speed up if they are concerned they are being slow played. Players should only report their opponent for slow playing to the TO at the end of the game if speed did not improve after several prompts.
- Chess clocks will be in use on the top 3 tables for Games 4 and 5 only. This is to ensure the games determining the podium are not impacted by any potential slow play issues.

Chess Clocks

- Chess clocks will be in use on the top 3 tables for Games 4 and 5 only. This is to ensure the games determining the podium are not impacted by any potential slow play issues.
- Summary of how to use chess clocks is provided below *credit to Sam Morgan whose event pack the below is taken.

HOW TO USE CHESS CLOCKS

- The following rules will be in use regarding chess clocks. The responsibility is on both players to ensure time is used correctly.
- The Active player is the player who is currently taking their turn and has the clock running on their time. The Inactive Player is the player who is not currently taking their turn.

TIME PAUSING

- Time on a chess clock may only be paused by a member of the tournament team and to resolve an important issue regarding the game.

TIME USAGE - SETUP

- The chess clock is activated once the roll for first deployment or deployment zones is made. The player who wins the roll begins the clock on their time. Only the active player can deploy their units.
- After armies are deployed, the Player who deployed first becomes the active Player and can decide who goes first or second.
- Any interruption caused by an ability can be carried out, and the Player, whose ability is triggered, becomes the active Player. Time then resumes with the player who is taking their turn (see next)

TIME USAGE - DURING GAME

- Time will always be used by the active player with the following exceptions.
- Switching time is the responsibility of both players
- An inactive player becomes active in the following cases:
 - The Inactive player asks active player to look up a rule
 - The Inactive player must roll save(s)/damage/ward(s)/attacks or make a dice roll during the Active player's time.
 - The Inactive player must remove/replace/move models
 - The Inactive player is unbinding prayers/spells
 - The Active player cannot continue to play until the Inactive player takes an action
 - A special rule that requires any action during the active player's turn (blood tithe charges, Lumineth shooting phase movement etc.)

TIME EXPIRATION

- Should one player run out of time, they are not allowed to take any action in the game, and they immediately become the inactive player.
- They cannot interact with the game except by performing the following actions:
 - To assign wounds and remove models
 - Any action that must be performed for the game to continue (e.g.: Armour)
- During these exceptions the active player may pause their time only during these actions.
- Should both players run out of time; they will become inactive players with the mentioned exceptions above.

We are using a traditional W/D/L combined with the Stats and Ladders 37+ differential scoring system to recognise and reward stronger Major Wins and to not overly penalise the losers of close games.

A Win is worth 20 TPs;

A Draw is worth 10 TPs; and

A Loss is worth 0 TPs.

Tables and Terrain

Tables

- All tables will be fully provided with mats and terrain, so players do not need to bring terrain.
- All mats will either be the correct gaming size (60" x 44") or will be pretaped to correct gaming size – see examples on the next page

Terrain

- Every single table will be fully furnished with at least 8 pieces of terrain. We will do our best to ensure each table has appropriate terrain per the terrain maps (4 large and 4 small).
- Terrain warscrolls will not be used unless they are purchased as part of your army (i.e. terrain pieces gained from Allegiance abilities).
- Anything marked as Obscuring, Obstacle, Unstable etc. per the terrain maps should be adhered to.
- As many Terrain pieces do not have a base, measuring and movement regarding Terrain is to played 'as is'. That means, models with small enough bases can walk between the gaps of doorways etc. unless that piece is impassable.
